

Labor Tracking

This menu contains settings related to labor trackers.

Labor trackers are tables that split the day into buckets called time blocks, where each block represents a custom range of time.

For example, if 5:00 AM to 8:00 AM is a critical period in your department, you can define a time block for 5–8 in the Edit Time Blocks menu.

When you generate daysheets, the labor trackers will include a column for each time block you've defined, showing the total scheduled hours in that range.

You can also choose how labor trackers are grouped:

- Per role – a separate table for each role in the department.
- Per department – a single unified table that counts all employees scheduled that day.
